

Infor FMS Smartstream General Ledger

➔ Leverage your existing financial management systems for peak performance with Infor FMS SmartStream General Ledger.

Do business better.

Business evolves constantly, adapting daily to a faster marketplace, tougher competition, and stricter regulations. The technology investments you made in years past gradually seem to lose their luster as new requirements arise to challenge their capacity. Your business can't afford to "rip and replace" systems to adapt to every new business trend. Infor FMS SmartStream General Ledger gives you a way to refresh your existing technology investment to meet today's requirements without impairing your financial prospects tomorrow.

Leverage experience.

Based on more than 40 years of experience, Infor™ FMS SmartStream offers a comprehensive package of web-capable financial tools to give you maximum control over critical financial variables. It's also designed to interact with a wide array of other enterprise management applications to deliver a powerful, enterprise-wide result. Our Professional Services team, which boasts decades of experience in the field, can help you implement your FMS SmartStream solution and tailor it to meet the specific needs of your industry.

Get business specific.

Infor FMS SmartStream General Ledger puts an intuitive, accessible face on a powerful and sophisticated set of features. Financial managers with access to the General Ledger can view all journal details, then approve or reject entries, add comments, and trigger the workflow for the approvers at the next level. SmartStream General Ledger can also improve your workflow by routing journals to users based on existing workflow maps, workgroups, approval lists, and structures. Users can then review their journals and either approve or reject the journal. They can also review the approvals that they have already completed. Because decision-making often requires you to see a journal's underlying details, SmartStream General Ledger lets you view the unposted journal, along with details about both pending and completed approvals.

Other benefits of SmartStream General Ledger include:

- Support for multiple currencies, divisions, and companies. Global organizations gain the support they need to track financial transactions simultaneously in the widest range of environments, as well as multiple, separate charts of accounts and fiscal calendars.
- Dynamic account number generation. This feature allows the system to create accounts on the fly with user-defined rules.
- Wildcarding. Wildcarding capabilities help you analyze financial results online, create reports, define allocations, and modify the chart of accounts.
- Separate ledgers for dual posting. This allows you to satisfy regulatory requirements or consolidate several general ledger companies.
- Robust security. Security down to the field level and security hierarchy for reports and budgets gives you confidence in your data and control of your system. You can define access to data and daily processing functions at the user profile level to control access to companies, divisions, departments, cost centers, and accounts.

Now that automated business processes are a standard business practice, Infor FMS SmartStream General Ledger can help you do business better in a global marketplace.

See results now.

Infor FMS SmartStream General Ledger helps your organization leverage its existing technology investment to meet the requirements of tomorrow. By completing your SmartStream suite, your organization gains maximum effectiveness and flexibility, as well as a range of advanced financial features to help keep your business competitive in an increasingly aggressive marketplace. You'll also improve the accuracy and responsiveness of your financial systems, which will help you make better decisions more quickly and take advantage of new business opportunities as they arise.
