

Infor FMS SmartStream Projects

➔ Project management demands the accountability and flexibility you get from Infor FMS SmartStream Projects.

Do business better.

Tracking ROI for projects can be tricky. But it's critical to know whether the projects you initiate are yielding the return you expect—particularly projects that consume scarce cash and even scarcer staff attention. The management systems that are designed to address the needs of ongoing operations often fall short when it comes to running projects that cut across business units and budgets. For truly effective, innovative project management, you need the right tools for the job.

Leverage experience.

Infor™ FMS SmartStream Projects has emerged from decades of experience on the part of our global team of experts in financial management systems. They know the importance of effective project management to companies that seek to grow, innovate, and adapt to rapidly changing markets. You can rely on our team for support, training, and professional services around the clock and around the world. Infor experts are proud of their reputation for expert implementation and quick time to value for your Infor FMS SmartStream upgrade.

Get business specific.

Infor FMS SmartStream Projects helps you get more mileage from the projects you manage by keeping those projects connected with the full range of Infor FMS SmartStream financial management tools while still preventing those projects from getting buried in daily operational details. It allows you to draw on the resources of business units across your organization and maintain a clear picture of each project's requirements and ROI.

SmartStream Projects gives managers the power to:

- Keep complete control of project costs using integrated funds checking functionality
- Ensure up-to-date billing
- Account properly for project-related revenue and costs
- Compare Actual to Budget amounts.
- Keep project data distinct from other company financial information, while keeping it linked to the financial management system
- Keep up-to-date project information accessible for better financial management
- Capitalize fixed assets
- Reduce project costs

By spanning the boundaries of internal department budgets, SmartStream Projects gives you a comprehensive view of how each project is contributing to your company's bottom line. It also lets you look at the history of completed projects to help in budgeting future projects and in predicting the likely success of a proposed project. Just as important, Infor FMS SmartStream Projects gives you a structure for organizing projects from beginning to end, so that managers can keep their goals in mind at all phases of the project's progress.

Perhaps the greatest power of Infor FMS SmartStream Projects comes from its deep roots in your Infor FMS SmartStream financial suite, which connects general ledger, accounts payable, cash management, receivables, assets, and other critical functions. When your projects operate in an appropriate balance of financial independence and fiscal connection, your managers gain the clear and immediate knowledge of whether or not each project is successful.

See results now.

When you complete your suite by adding Infor FMS SmartStream Projects to your financial toolkit, you'll be taking a large and important step forward. You'll be adding advanced, real time financial management that lets your company innovate and respond flexibly to the needs of your customers and the demands of the marketplace. By tying project management to your financial management system in a secure but adaptable system, you'll achieve the ideal balance of progress and accountability.
